Dear translator,

I work as a project manager in a translation company that works with specific language needs from our clients, and I am looking for a good translator who is experienced, skillful, understand the importance of time and reply fast, reliable to work, can deal with translation's programs, work seriously, and the most important to have the capacity, and the experience to hold such projects.

I would like to give you some hints about our company Translationsecrets.

We are a translation company that covers a wide scope of freelance translations. Our many clients from all over the world trust us to work on a variety of projects regularly. These projects are managed by our core group of project managers who work hard to deliver the highest quality of translations. I am one of those project managers.

Translationsecrets pays reliably and is attentive to the needs of our translators so that our translators can produce highest quality translation possible.

This is our website: www.translationsecrets.com

Now I will tell you our system, I work as a project manager for three years, I deal with 9 languages and I have a group of translators for each language, I ask the translator if he can give me the permission to use his CV with our clients if he agrees I send to him an agreement to sign it, and he becomes the most important translator in the team, our programming department makes an email and marketing the email with the translator's CV for our clients, then I receive the projects in this email, when I receive a project I ask the translator (who gives me the permission to use his CV) if he can take the project (he has the Priority right) if not (refuse to hold the project) I ask the group of translators. It means that working with us will not affect your other works, and if you are busy and haven't time to do a project , you don't have to do it. any translator from the group can do it instead of you. But you still have the priority everytime. So it's very comfortable.

We look forward to welcoming you in our team in the future, taking into account that you will be satisfied at all.

We will be very excited to have you join our team, and we hope that you will enjoy working with our company.

Please let me know if you have any questions or I can provide any additional information.

If you choose to accept this job offer, please send me your CV to this email :

s.a.m.a.h.s.2013@gmail.com

And then I will send you the permission to sign it.

As I told you, you will be satisfied at all, and everything will be as you want it to be.

Hoping to hear positive response.

best wishes... your sincerely:

Samah Qr
